

New Media Guides On Sale NOW!

The Media Guide for Professionals will assist the reader in developing effective skills for working with the media, including reaching out to create media opportunities, identifying and partnering with parent leaders, and developing a shared leadership approach to all media activities.

The companion publication, Media Guide for Parent Leaders, is an excellent tool for parents who are considering working with the media. This publication is designed to help parent leaders effectively communicate their message through the media and offers valuable information about how the media works and general guidelines about being interviewed.
